Wars Deaths Lowest in Four Years

By MICHAEL PUTZEL
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The total of American combat deaths in Indochina dropped to 38 last week, the lowest weekly toll in nearly 4½ years, the U.S. Command announced. But the toll for the South Vietnamese increased 40 per cent over the week before, and enemy casualties went up slightly.

The total number of Americans killed was 25 less than the week before and the lowest since April 18-24, 1966, when 37 were killed.

The U.S. Command said 666 Americans were wounded last week, compared to 344 the week before. A command spokesman said the wounded figure jumped because it contained a two-week accumulation of minor wounds that servicemen did not want reported to their families.

The summary reported a total of 43,775 Americans killed, 289,800 wounded and 1,424 missing or captured in the war since Jan. 1, 1961.

The Saigon government said 345 of its troops were killed last week and 720 were wounded, an increase from the previous week's 246 killed and 690 wounded. The two allied commands reported 1,468 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese killed last week, 11 more than the claim the week before.

In the war today, South Vietnamese forces were regrouping at a northern base after withdrawing from Firebase O'Reilly, near the Laotian border. Officials said the government troops pulled out because of the approaching monsoon rains, but the North Vietnamese had been pounding the base steadily for two months.

American helicopters lifted the artillery and heavy equipment off the base in the northwestern part of the country Wednesday, encountering sporadic mortar fire. But no choppers were reported lost, and casualties were said to be light. Infantrymen of the South Vietnamese 1st Division remained in the surrounding jungle, but O'Reilly's bunkers were blown up and the mountaintop base evacuated.

Officers had said earlier that O'Reilly and several other allied firebases nearby would have to be abandoned before the rains made it impossible to supply them by air.

O'Reilly's guns and headquarters personnel were moved to Firebase Barbara, five miles to the north.

Through much of the summer, U.S. and South Vietnamese forces manned eight artillery bases strung along the northwestern border with Laos in an attempt to block North Vietnamese infiltration into the populous coastal lowlands around Hue. Five of these have now been abandoned, leaving the South Vietnamese and American artillery units in Barbara and troops of the U.S. 101st Airborne Division in two others named Rakksan and Gladiator.

Agnew Arrives in Ft. Smith for Address

FORT SMITH, Ark. (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was scheduled to arrive at Fort Smith at 4:30 p.m. today to appear in support of state Republican candidates including Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller.

The vice president has been making a series of campaign appearances across the nation on behalf of Republican candidates.

After a welcoming ceremony at the airport, Agnew will go by motorcade to Fort Smith's Downtown Holiday Inn, which will be the headquarters for his visit. He will attend a $100-per-couple legislative fund-raising reception from 5:45 p.m. to 7:45 p.m., then speak at 8 p.m. at the Fort Smith Civic Auditorium at no charge.

The auditorium seats 2,400. Closed circuit television has been set up in another room for any overflow. Loud speakers also will carry the speech outside the auditorium.

Arguments Over How Much Water Should Be Allowed in Some Meat

By DON KENDALL
AP Farm Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department says demands for juicier beef sandwiches at fast-food shops are raising questions over how much water should be used to make them seem that way. Adding water to some meat and poultry is allowed as long as it is part of a mixture intended to improve the food's tenderness or taste.

It cannot be added if the only objective is to increase its weight or size. But the regulations have not spelled out to government satisfaction the practice of adding water or oil mixtures to partially cooked meat demanded by the nation's thriving drive-in and quick-snack trade.

These products—beef was cited as an example—are treated during processing with a flavoring or tenderizing solution, partly cooked and then passed on to the retail food shops.

At the drive-in, cooking can

3 Buildings on West Coast Bombed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bomb explosions heavily damaged a National Guard Army and a county courthouse in California today and damaged the inside of Air Force and Navy ROTC facilities at the University of Washington.

There were no injuries. Part of a wall was blown back and windows knocked out at the army on Santa Barbara. The county courthouse in San Rafael, where a judge was taken hostage and shot to death Aug. 7, was damaged by a bomb apparently planted in a toilet.

Two of the blasts were preceded by telephoned warnings to authorities that they were about to go off.

The explosions came just two days after representatives of the radical group the Weatherman said that a "fall offensive" would soon be launched.

At a press conference in New York on Tuesday, a recording said to be the voice of Bernard Dohrn, a Weatherman fugitive leader, said an offensive by dissident youths "will spread from Santa Barbara to Boston, back to Kent and Kansas."

The San Rafael explosion caused heavy damage to two courtrooms, a sheriff's inspector said. Inspector Bowen Bridges said a San Francisco

Your Memory Track Is Piled Up If You Can Recall These Things

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Memory is the great reconciler in life. You've piled up a lot of memory trackage yourself if you can look back and remember when

A farm boy's day was made if the engineer on a passing train returned his friendly wave. To him that was a salute from the great outside world beyond the acres of home—the world he would go out and try to conquer. A spendthrift was a kid who used up most of his week's allowance seeing how many balls of penny chewing gum he could put in his mouth at the same time.

If a girl couldn't find a beau in her own home town, she'd make a series of visits to cousins in other towns, hoping her luck would be better there.

It took a woman all day to wash and dry her hair.

A strong dentist took pride in his ability to pull a tooth with his bare fingers.

About the only place the average family had a charge account was at the grocery store, and all the kids tagged along be completed quickly and —because of the earlier treatment—the meat is juicier for sandwich customers.

Current regulations generally limit the extra water or oil mixtures to three per cent in the case of meat and six per cent for poultry.

The department announced Wednesday it has given temporary approval for using solutions as long as labeling on the products, carrying a list of ingredients, is bold and clearly understood by users.

"Solutions approved thus far range from 2 to 10 per cent of the weight of the meat product, and 3 to 6 per cent of the weight of the poultry product," the department said.

A spokesman for the Consumer and Marketing Service said the temporary approval has been in effect for several weeks and was directed primarily to wholesale or institutional meats and not items generally found in supermarkets.

But the matter is far from settled. The department announced it also asked public comment on the possibility of changing federal regulations so specific limits can be put on the amount of liquid mixtures used in meat and poultry.

"We want to find out more about it," the consumer agency official said. "It is all so relatively new that we need to gather all the information we can."

Another popular example of recent years are the "self-basting" turkeys available at retail food stores.

The turkeys are injected with mixtures of liquid fats and water and seasoning. The liquid helps spread the tenderizing or seasoning agents so the bird is juicier and more tender.

Sentencing Due for Two in Kidnap Case

HARRISBURG, Ark. (AP) — Circuit Court Judge A. S. Harrison was scheduled today to sentence two men who were convicted Wednesday of kidnaping Polk County Sheriff Ray Holmes.

The men also were charged with kidnaping two other law enforcement officials and were charged with two counts of assault with intent to kill, but those charges were continued.

Convicted by the jury, which deliberated nearly three hours Wednesday, were J. A. Morgan, 28, of Harrisburg and his cousin, Jerry Morgan, 26, of Memphis. The jury recommended prison sentences of 17 years each.

The hidden resentment against the richest man in town burst forth on Halloween, when men joined the boys in overturning the iron deer on his front lawn.

A lad was regarded as grown up when he put on long pants, got a gold watch from his father, and could go to a burlesque show without having to sneak in.

Reformers thought public morals had reached a new ebb when some brazen girls started wearing two-piece bathing suits that exposed their belly buttons. ## Car Hits Bridge, Man Is Killed

WEST MEMPHIS, Ark. (AP) —London Judy, 75, of Hughes was killed Wednesday when the car in which he was riding struck a bridge abutment on Arkansas 147 about 15 miles south of here.

State Police said Judy was a passenger in a car driven by Albert Basemore, 45, also of Hughes. Basemore was not injured.

Senate Likely to Accept Crime Bill

By JOHN H. KAMPS
WASHINGTON (AP) — The House and Senate have exchanged bills to give the federal government stronger legal weapons against organized crime and narcotics traffic.

The Senate is expected to accept the House's sweeping anti-crime bill. But the Senate narcotics crackdown measure was headed for a conference committee where attempts will be made to iron out differences with a bill approved earlier by the House.

Both bills were approved Wednesday, the anticrime measure sailing through the House 341 to 26, the narcotics control legislation getting 54-0 favor in the Senate.

The House anticrime bill, which survived attempts to soften it, would give the federal government greater legal powers against organized crime and more authority to deal with terror bombings, including the right to send federal agents to college campuses to investigate explosions and fires.

Embraced in the bill are a dozen recommendations of the administration, a Presidential crime commission and members of Congress.

The bill would, among other things: establish grand juries with expanded powers to investigate organized crime activities; strengthen procedures to compel witnesses to testify; protect witnesses from intimidation or murder; and permit court use of evidence obtained by wire-tapping.

Prison sentences of up to 25 years could be imposed under the bill if a judge determines that defendants are dangerous criminals.

The narcotics bill was passed by the Senate after being amended to include provisions for the treatment and rehabilitation of drug users—an amendment which some senators said would conflict with the bill's law enforcement provision and may jeopardize the measure for this session.

The bill, recommended by President Nixon, would give the Justice Department broad new powers to combat organized narcotic traffic. It also would clamp new restrictions on the import, export, manufacture and sale of drugs.

Meet Called to Plan Night Classes

Announcement has been made by Royce Pendergrass, Director of Extension at Red River Vocational Technical School on Monday, October 19, at 7:00 p.m. for the purpose of planning night classes to be offered at the school.

Courses being considered include: Air Conditioning-Refrigeration, Welding, Auto Mechanics and Diesel Trouble-Shooting.

The Business Education Department at the school will offer Bookkeeping, Beginning Typewriting, Intermediate Typewriting, Letterwriting, Business English, and Filing and Machine Transcription.

Each of the above courses will be offered provided there are ten or more people at the organizational meeting interested in taking the course.

These are short courses of six to eight weeks duration. Days, frequency, and time of meeting will be determined by needs of the class.

S. Vietnam Accepts Plan Reluctantly

By J. T. WOLKERSTORFER
Associated Press Writer
SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese government endorsed President Nixon's peace plan today, but its method of expressing approval raised doubts about President Nixon's proposal.

A government statement broadcast on the national radio station outlined the five points of the plan and said South Vietnam supported Nixon's initiative for a standstill cease-fire throughout Indochina and a peace conference which would include Laos and Cambodia.

U.S. sources said they had no reason to doubt that Thieu agreed with the plan. But many Vietnamese interpreted his failure to make a personal response to Nixon's speech as an indication that he had reservations

U.S. Insists Planes Not Certified

By JAMES R. POLK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Government experts say the aging Wichita State football plane that crashed killing 30 persons lacked a valid safety certificate, but a probe has uncovered no evidence of mechanical failure so far.

A safety official said the rented plane may have flown into a dead-end canyon on a sight-seeing route through the Rock Mountains and smashed into the foot of the Continental Divide Friday while trying to turn around.

The Federal Aviation Administration said the old airliner did not obtain its airworthiness certificate when taken out of mothballs last month at Las Vegas, Nev., where it had been left idle for three years.

FAA officials said the plane was issued only a 10-day ferry permit that expired Sept. 21. This permit allowed a crew to fly the plane eastward, but did not authorize any passenger operations.

In Oklahoma City, the aircraft owner, Jack Richards Aircraft Co. Inc., insisted anew the plane had passed a safety check and received its airworthiness license at Las Vegas Sept. 8. The FAA denied this.

The FAA also said investigators found a second rented plane that carried the rest of the football team to Utah State had only an outdated air certificate issued before it was mothballed in 1967. That plane was grounded this week for 16 safety defects.

A spokesman for the National Transportation Safety Board said today it has found nothing so far to indicate any mechanical problem figured in the disaster.

The spokesman, Brad Dunbar, said the twin-engine propeller plane was flying a scenic route west of Denver when it was suddenly confronted with a wall of mountains soaring up nearly a half-mile where Loveland Pass crosses the Continental Divide.

Dunbar said the plane may have been trying to turn in the narrow canyon when it hit a ridge, crashed and burned. The pilot was among the dead.

The safety board is scheduled to open public hearings in Wichita in about two weeks.

Rockefeller, speaking to about 100 persons here, remarked that at this time of year politicians remained alive because of bread.

Nixon in a Five Point Bid to End the War But Enemy Brushes It Off

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
WASHINGTON (AP) — In a new five-point bid to end the war in Vietnam, President Nixon has called for a standstill cease-fire throughout Indochina and an international conference to negotiate peace for Southeast Asia. Nixon's proposals were greeted favorably by both Democratic and Republican figures in the U.S. and supported by South Vietnam. Non-Communist governments in Southeast Asia generally reacted favorably. In Paris, negotiators for the North Vietnamese and Viet Cong brushed off the Nixon's statement as "a gift certificate for the American electorate" and a means of "legalizing American aggression in Indochina."

North Vietnam called it "an electoral gift certificate" while the Viet Cong assailed it as a means of "legalizing American aggression in Indochina."

In making the plan a part of the conference proceedings, U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce said the President's proposals "represent a profound effort to achieve peace in Indochina."

"These proposals are designed to end the fighting throughout Indochina and to end the impasse in the negotiations in Paris," Bruce declared at the 87th plenary peace talks session.

"It is our earnest hope that the President's proposals will receive the most careful study and considered response by your side," Bruce told Ambassador Xuan Thuy of North Vietnam and Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, the Viet Cong emissary.

The President's five points included a standstill cease-fire throughout Indochina, a Geneva-type conference on Indochina, negotiation of a troop withdrawal timetable, balanced representation in South Vietnam's political structure and immediate release of all war prisoners.

Mrs. Binh dismissed the plan as one aimed "only at misleading public opinion on the so-called American desire for peace."

"The real significance of the proposals," she asserted, "is that they aim simply at arrogating for the United States the right to commit aggression in Laos and Cambodia and to continue Vietnamization of the war, that is, to prolong and intensify the war to impose the yoke of U.S. neocolonialism on South Vietnam."

The Viet Cong's emissary then delivered a point-by-point rejection of the President's proposals.

—On the president's call for a standstill cease-fire all over Indochina under international supervision, Mrs. Binh declared: "The United States must end its aggression and withdraw completely from the zone."

Standstill Cease-fire Called for

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
WASHINGTON (AP) — In a new five-point bid to end the war in Vietnam, President Nixon has called for a standstill cease-fire throughout Indochina and a big new international conference to negotiate peace for Southeast Asia.

"Our side is ready to standstill and cease firing," Nixon told a national television and radio audience in a speech from the White House Wednesday night. He urged North Vietnam to start serious negotiations promptly.

"Nobody has anything to gain by delay and only lives to lose," he said.

At one point in the 12-minute speech he offered to negotiate "an agreed timetable" for troop withdrawals from South Vietnam without specifying removal of North Vietnamese forces as a condition. But aides said Nixon was talking about a schedule for removing North Vietnamese as well as U.S. and allied forces.

He also called for immediate and unconditional release of all prisoners of war.

Nixon's five-point peace bid is the latest in a series of settlement plans put forward since the Paris talks opened in May 1968. The newest element in American policy—as disclosed Wednesday night is the call for a cease-fire in Laos and Cambodia as well as Vietnam. Previously Nixon had proposed an internationally supervised cease-fire in Vietnam as part of a plan for troop withdrawal by the U. S. and allied nations and by North Vietnam.

Nixon announced his new peace plan—breaking through the bounds of previous policy—on the eve of its introduction today in the Paris peace talks where prospects of its success were not rated high even by administration policy makers.

They said North Vietnam has shown no sign of moving out of the stalemate at the Paris talks. Nevertheless Nixon was said to feel the time was right to make what he himself called "an intensive effort to develop new approaches for peace in Indochina."

And administration officials expressed hope that regardless of its first public reaction, North Vietnam would take time to consider the new U.S. proposal fully.

Hampton Barn at Oakhaven Guttered by Fire

A large barn on the L. J. Hampton place at Oakhaven caught fire yesterday afternoon and was a complete loss. Besides the barn the loss included 8,000 bales of hay, 500 bushels of oats and a lot of equipment.

There was a delay due to telephone tieups before Hope Fire Department was called and sent out a truck which stood by during the night to prevent the blaze from spreading.

Firemen figured the blaze was caused by spontaneous combustion.

Bolivia in Control of Leftists

By HAROLD OLMOS
Associated Press Writer

LA PAZ, Bolivia (AP) — Military leftists appear to be in control of Bolivia again after squelching a conservative attempt to take power.

Gen. Juan Jose Torres declared himself president Wednesday after routing Gen. Rogelio Miranda and indicated his government would move farther to the left. Miranda, the conservative army chief of staff, a day earlier had forced the resignation of President Alfredo Ovando Candia, who had headed a leftist military regime since a coup a year ago.

Torres, relieved of his position as commander in chief of the armed forces several months ago because of pressure from Miranda, declared his was "the revolution of the people, who manifest their unwavering will to take the route of national liberation."

Only one report indicated his control of the country might not be complete. A radio report from the mining town of Oruro, 120 miles southeast of La Paz, said officers loyal to Miranda had killed 10 leftist demonstrators who appeared about to assault a divisional headquarters. It was the only bloodshed reported in the four-day power struggle within the military clique that has ruled Bolivia for the past six years.

Torres appeared to have strong support from students, farmers, workers and powerful segments of the armed forces. After Miranda capitulated, he rode from his headquarters outside La Paz to the presidential palace through cheering crowds massed along the streets.

There he took the oath of office and then told a cheering crowd in a speech from the palace balcony: "So that the people never again will be betrayed in their hopes, we have sponsored an unbreakable alliance of the workers and the armed forces. They will be, together with the people, the force of this revolution."

He said the government would create new jobs with "fair salaries for workers" and would defend Bolivia's natural resources. This indicated there would be no retreat from the nationalization of the U.S. Gulf Oil Co.'s local holdings, an action by the Ovando regime which apparently helped to trigger the attempted conservative coup.

"When this president, who comes from a humble origin, fails, ask for his resignation," Torres said.

Students and workers ran through the city, sacking homes of military men and civilians suspected of being rightist and occupying the offices of three leading newspapers, including the conservative El Diario.

Armed civilians freed several leftist prisoners from jail. In Cochabamba, Bolivia's second largest city 55 miles southeast of La Paz, Torres supporters attacked the U.S. Information Center, destroying or carting away most of its contents.

Ovando was reported to have left the Argentine Embassy, where he had taken refuge after his resignation. He is expected to retire into private life.

Miranda took refuge in another foreign embassy along with the army and navy commanders he had named to his three-man junta. The third member, Gen. Fernando Sattori, the air force commander, went over to Torres early Wednesday.

Canadians Pressing Kidnapers

MONTREAL (AP) — The Canadian government today pressed the kidnapers of British diplomat James Richard Cross to negotiate and agreed to their demand for broadcast of a Quebec separatist manifesto.

The kidnapers demanded dissemination of the manifesto in a note delivered Wednesday to a French-language radio station in Montreal. The note also set a new deadline of noon today for the payment of $500,000 in ransom and the release of 21 Quebec men described as political prisoners.

The Wednesday note was delivered after three previous ransom deadlines passed with no word on Cross' fate.

The note was signed by the Quebec Liberation Front, or FLQ, which abducted the 49-year-old British trade commissioner from his Montreal residence Monday. Foreign Secretary Mitchell Sharp reiterated Wednesday night that the government considered the ransom demands "wholly unreasonable."

He called on the kidnapers to name a representative to negotiate terms for Cross' release.

Sharp said the note from the kidnapers Wednesday attached "particular importance to the broadcasting of a certain manifesto or communique on radio

Soviet Writer Is Awarded Noble Prize

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Controversial Soviet novelist Alexander Solzhenitsyn, whose works are banned in his homeland, was awarded the 1970 Nobel Prize in literature today.

The Swedish Academy of Letters said it had made the award to the 52-year-old writer, called the "Dostoyevsky of our time," for "the ethical force with which he has pursued the indispensable traditions of Russian literature."

Solzhenitsyn was captured while commanding a Soviet artillery battery toward the end of World War II in 1945 and sent to a German forced labor camp. While there, he wrote a letter criticizing the military capabilities of "the whiskered one," an obvious allusion to Stalin.

Someone in authority saw the letter, and when Solzhenitsyn was "liberated" it turned out to be for an 11-year term in a Soviet detention camp.

His experiences there proved to be the background for "One Day in the Life of Ivan Denisovich," a novel about a typical day of a 3,653-day sentence being served by a Russian peasant.

Solzhenitsyn was expelled from the Writers Union early this year.

In 1965 the Swedish Academy awarded the prize to the Kremlin-approved writer Mikhail Sholokhov.

The prize this year is worth a record 4,000,000 crowns—close to $80,000.

When Boris Pasternak, the controversial author of "Doctor Zhivago," won the Nobel Prize for literature in 1958, Soviet authorities refused to let him travel to Oslo to accept it.

Bumpers Picks Negro for Committee

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dale Bumpers of Charleston, Democratic nominee for governor, said Wednesday he had nominated Henry Akins of Little Rock, a Negro, to fill the vacancy on the Democratic State Committee from the 6th Judicial District.

The vacancy was created by the recent resignation from the party of the Rev. James Allen, a Negro, who joined the Republican campaign of Sterling Cockrill Jr., candidate for lieutenant governor.

Akins is dean of men and director of testing at the University of Arkansas at Little Rock.

The Santa Barbara explosion went off outside an Army National Guard armory, scattering cement debris from a wall, blowing up windows and sending up columns of smoke. That explosion occurred at 4:32 a.m. at the building operated by an artillery unit of the California National Guard and shared by an Army Reserve unit.

In Seattle, a janitor was taken out of the building just prior to the blast after the Fire Department, the university and the Seattle Times got phone calls warning of the explosion. The calls came about 25 minutes before the early morning blast.

A small fire that followed the explosion in the school's Clark Hall was put out quickly, firemen said.

Reports Agent Hired to Trap Another

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Little Rock television station KATV reported Wednesday night that a police informant said he was hired by an agent of the state Alcoholic Beverage Control Department to buy hashish from another ABC agent so the first agent would be forced to resign.

The station reported that it was told by the informant that the incident led to a recent State Police investigation of the ABC. The informant asked that his name not be used.

He said the information given to the television station would be confirmed when he filed a suit with the state Claims Commission for $500, an amount he said the ABC owed him for the arranging of the hashish sale.

The informant also said he would call a news conference about Nov. 1—two days before the general election—to tell his story publicly.

A meeting to buy the hashish was arranged at a Little Rock motel, the informant said, but no money changed hands during the transaction. The informant said neither of the agents still worked for the ABC.

about the proposal. Spokesmen had announced that Thieu would make a radio address at noon, but other sources said this never was a firm decision. The government announcement came at 2:30 p.m.

The statement said South Vietnam favored the Nixon proposal because it might help "to end quickly a war which has caused so much suffering in this country and throughout Indochina."

The announcement also emphasized that:

—South Vietnam would insist on "an efficient organization to supervise the cease-fire" and to prevent either side from "increasing its fighting forces from outside."

—The government had reached its decision after consultations with the governments of the United States, Laos and Cambodia.

—It endorsed Nixon's proposal for a negotiated timetable for the withdrawal of all foreign forces, the immediate and unconditional release of all prisoners of war, and a political solution.

tion arrived at by free elections. "We believe," the statement said, "that military aspects of the war need to be discussed within the framework of Indochina and based on the 1954 and 1962 Geneva agreements." It reiterated the government's willingness to hold private talks with the Communist side and to discuss the machinery by which all South Vietnamese could participate in free elections.

There was no official comment on Nixon's speech in Phnom Penh, and a spokesman said he did not know when any would be made. But acceptance of the plan by the Cambodian government could arouse massive opposition because the war has been sold to the Cambodian people as a holy crusade against the country's traditional Vietnamese enemies.

Sources in Phnom Penh pointed out that a cease-fire would leave Communist forces in control of more than half of the country. But diplomatic observers considered it unlikely the government would talk openly at the Nixon initiative because it is almost totally dependent on the United States and her Asian allies for war material.

Elsewhere in Asia, there was no immediate comment from Communist governments, but other regimes generally approved the American proposals.

It took the great depression to knock down a long-cherished American idea—that even in hard times a man willing to work could always find a job.

A family was regarded as a success if it could afford the services of both a hired girl and a hired man.

Postmen made their rounds twice a day instead of just once—and still had time to come into the kitchen and gossip over a cup of coffee.

The thing that most men feared almost as much as the devil was getting in debt.

Any husband who helped his wife do the dishes pulled the blinds down first so the neighbors wouldn't see him and spread the rumor that he was henpecked.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — President Nixon's address outlining proposals for peace in Southeast Asia caused little disruption of network program schedules Wednesday night. It started at a time when all three had concluded programs.

The speech occupied about 15 minutes, followed on all networks with analysis by staff commentators and correspondents for another 15. Then entertainment programs were picked up, each a half hour late.

Earlier in the evening, the networks were in light-hearted moods. ABC had two situation comedies in succession. CBS's "Storefront Lawyers," usually sober and world-saving, was involved with a comedy caper starring an old con man. Doug McClure who does practically all the comedy on NBC's "The Men from Shiloh" was being funny about acquiring an old wreck of a river boat.

Meanwhile, public broadcasting's star, French chef Julia Child, was returning with the first of a new series of food programs. Mrs. Child zestfully presented a cram course in making bouillabaisse, elbow deep in assorted fish and herbs.

The new series is in color, which gives a new dimension to food. Some of her most delicate concoctions in the old series lost a lot of appeal when we saw them in shades of gray.

For some incomprehensible reason, however, the producers have decided to fancy up a perfectly satisfactory cooking show with travelogue stuff. There were a number of scenes of the outdoor fish market in Marseille, charming maybe, but so time-consuming that Mrs. Child literally dashed through the essential portions of her demonstration.

The first program in public broadcasting's British import, "Civilisation," 13 hour-long shows about the art and architecture of the past 1,600 years, started on a low, pleasant introductory note.

Kenneth Clark, art historian and commentator, started talking about the period when the Roman and Greek civilization fell before the onslaughts of the invading barbarians.

While Clark did not even make the comparison, the viewer inevitably measured Rome and Greece against current conditions as Clark talked of the boredom, hopelessness, superstition and fear of those ancient civilizations, and asserted that they really collapsed out of exhaustion.

Coming, Going

Mrs. Cecil Tuck, Los Angeles, was the weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Gus Hickerson.

The Rev. Bob Hyatt, Longview, Tex., arrived Tuesday for a short visit with his mother, Mrs. B. C. Hyatt.

M. Sgt. Albert Patton will arrive Thursday night from Altus AFB, Okla., for a visit with his family.

Mrs. Sam Dameron is at the bedside of her mother, Mrs. Carl Smith, at St. Michael Hospital, Texarkana.

Miss Nadine Tippitt, Prescott, was here last week to see Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harrell. Over the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Russell and Charles Randolph visited the Harrells.

SORRY, WRONG NUMBER - AGAIN

Dear Helen

Your letter concerning "Little Sister" has brought about a fight between my brother and his friends and me. You see, I too am almost 15 and my brother is 17. We have a pool and his friends are always over. The letter fits perfectly, except that I am NOT shy, and they don't ignore me or put me down.

I get along well with all his friends. But they think I wrote that letter, and they're teasing me to death. Would you please tell them I didn't? - ARETHA

Dear Aretha:

"Little Sister" lives approximately 2000 miles from you. Okay? - H.

Dear Helen:

This is a crazy mixed-up problem and we don't know which way to turn. I met Mary a year ago, and when we started thinking about marriage, we introduced our parents to each other. They all became good friends, which we thought was great. Until they became "great and good friends." Or at least Mary and I are getting suspicious.

At first it was my Dad and Mary's mother that seemed to pair off. Now Mary's father and my mother (maybe to get even) are real chummy. It's enough to make you want to throw up.

What should we do? We feel responsible for this "wreck-kangle." If we broke our engagement and told the folks why, would it help? - JULIAN

Dear Julian:

Wait a while before you do or say anything. Time has a way of untangling problems -- especially those which you aren't even quite sure exist. - H.

Dear Helen:

You hear so much about disastrous teen marriages. Here's another kind:

My husband and I were married when he was 16 and 17. Our folks wouldn't let us date, so we ran away, but came home when we found we couldn't get married without their consent. Then our parents finally decided to give in, so we were married not because we had to but because we wanted to.

Six years later, we are a very close and happy family, and we have three beautiful children. There were some bad times, of course, but the wonderful times are what we remember -- and

Bobcats Go to Crossett Friday

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer

Closing in on Friday nights' conference game with the Crossett Eagles, the Hope Bobcats are eagerly preparing for another hard test.

The Bobcats will be going for their fifth victory, third conference win, and to spoil the Eagles homecoming. Crossett lost the chance of playing last year on the coin toss to determine the AAA East champions. Crossett has a present record of 3-2 against some real tough teams. They opened the season with a 13-12 win over Stuttgart, lost to Malvern, and then beat Hamburg 27-3.

They fell to Magnolia and then beat a very good Warren team, 28-21 in real close battle.

Running the pro and wide-slot formations, led by quarterback Mike Hutchins, a 140 pound sophomore, the Eagles present an awesome backfield threat. He is aided by fullback Bubba Lovett, John Richards, and Bob Walton, all three who are capable of running with the ball.

The line is anchored by Mike Andrews, a 180 pound center. On each side of him are guards Johnny Blankenship and Max Pope, and tackles Randall Dickerson and Dannie Chambers.

Ends Bill Ray and Frank Carter are both able receivers and counting their weight the line weighs about 167 pounds per man.

Crossett runs a 5-4 and 6-3 defense led by veteran tackle Richard White, a 215 pound senior. He has help from Hutchins, Ray, and Chambers, all three two-way starters.

Linebackers John Burgess and Dave Thompson and cornerback Jimmy Longstaff are rugged pass defenders and can follow the ball through the line.

Crossett lost all but eight lettermen last year, and was not expected to be very good this year, but the Eagles have put together a team that has enough pride to win. They also have mustered up a fine kicking unit and will test it out more on the Bobcats.

So, whatever the case may be, it will be a sure thing that the Bobcats will have their hands full.

Tonight, the Hope Bobkittens resume play, after taking off a week, as they meet the Camden Panthers in Hammons Stadium at 7:30 p.m. The Kittens are looking for their first victory and can still have a successful season with a starting victory here.

1,000-yard Club Loses a Candidate

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Football League contest for the 1,000-yard club in rushing lost a prime candidate when the New York Jets' Matt Snell suffered a ruptured Achilles tendon Sunday and underwent surgery, but Larry Brown of Washington is still going strong.

Brown, a 5-foot-11, 195-pounder ran for 888 yards as a rookie last season and already has 293 yards in three Redskin games, best in either conference of the NFL. Brown leads Ken Willard of San Francisco, who has 260, in the National Conference race and the injured Snell's 281 tops the American Conference. Floyd Little of Denver is next at 211.

The passing statistics, based on a combination of the percentage of completions and interceptions, touchdown passes and average gain shown, John Brodie of San Francisco on top in the

The Fishery Division of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission will conduct a fish thinning operation on 200 acres of water at Bois d' Arc lake on Saturday, October 10.

The fish that are killed will be perfectly good for human consumption and the public is invited to come out and pick them up.

The chemical will be applied to the water early Saturday morning and the first fish should come to the surface about an hour afterwards.

All that's required to pick up the fish is a fishing license, according to Paul Choate, fishery biologist.

Stockton Is Long Shot at Piccadilly

By JOHN FARROW
Associated Press Sports Writer
VIRGINIA WATER, England (AP) — Dave Stockton, reigning U.S. PGA golf champion, is the long shot in the Piccadilly World Match play championship starting today. But he says:

"I'm a great believer in thinking positively. If you do that, then I reckon that your mind will correct your faults."

Stockton is the 16-1 outsider in the field of eight top class professionals competing for a first prize of $13,800 in the tournament—the last big match play affair of its kind in the world.

Stockton, 28, won his place in this elite company at Wentworth by capturing the PGA championship at Tulsa, Okla., in August.

Stockton meets Bob Charles of New Zealand, the defending champion, in today's first round.

All the matches are over 36 holes. Following the Charles and Stockton meeting, Billy Casper, U.S. Masters champion, meets Lee Trevino, former U.S. Open champion.

Then Tony Jacklin, Britain's holder of the U.S. Open title, meets Gary Player, the South African who has won this tournament three times.

The last match pairs Jack Nicklaus, reigning British Open champion from Columbus, Ohio, and Gene Littler, a former U.S. Open champion.

The bookies made Nicklaus the 7-2 favorite over the 6,997-yard, par 73 Wentworth Inland Course. Casper was 4-1, Charles, Jacklin, Trevino and Player 6-1, Littler 10-1 and Stockton 16-1.

NFC and Joe Namath of the Jets leading the AFC.

Ron Johnson, New York Giants' running back, has caught the most passes, 21. Ed Hinton of Baltimore leads the AFC with 17 for 277 yards.

Mel Farr, Detroit running back, and Dave Ray, Los Angeles placekicker, are the leading scorers. Farr has six touchdowns for 36 points, a total matched by Ray's nine field goals and nine conversions.

Denver's placekicker, Bobby Howfield, is first in the AFC with 27 points.

Thinks Hope Will Edge Crossett

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Pine Bluff journeys to El Dorado Friday for a Class AAAA game that both teams need to win.

El Dorado and Pine Bluff are two of the five teams in the conference who have lost one game. North Little Rock, which upset El Dorado last week and Little Rock Hall the previous week, leads the conference with a 3-0 record.

The Zebras were rolling along 3-0 when they went to Fort Smith and came away with a 26-0 loss to Northside.

Last week, Pine Bluff blew a 14-0 lead and then rallied to defeat Greenville, Miss.

The outcome Friday night will depend on whether El Dorado has forgotten North Little Rock. The home field advantage may help.

EL DORADO 13, PINE BLUFF 7.

Jacksonville, a hot and cold team, opens its Class AAA-East conference season at Jonesboro against the top-ranked Hurricane.

Jacksonville scored 22 points while losing to Little Rock Hall last week, but Jonesboro's strong point is its defense. In five games, Jonesboro has given up seven points.

JONESBORO 14, JACKSONVILLE 7.

Hot Springs goes to Texarkana Friday night with the lead in AAA-West on the line.

Hot Springs is 2-0 in conference play. Texarkana opened its conference season with a 27-7 victory over Fayetteville.

Texarkana is at home, but Bobby Hannon has Hot Springs back on the winning track.

HOT SPRINGS 20, TEXARKANA 14.

Last week's percentage was .704. Here are some other predictions involving AAAA, AAA and AA teams:

Irish Declare Orange Bowl Talk Wrong

MIAMI (AP) — A newspaper report that Notre Dame has already been landed for the Jan. 1 Orange Bowl game is "pure unadulterated hogwash," says the head of the bowl's selection committee.

The denial came from Jack Baldwin Jr., chairman of the Orange Bowl selection committee after a story published in Wednesday's editions of The Atlanta Journal quoted "a most reliable source from Miami" with spilling the beans.

National Collegiate Athletic Association regulations prohibit signing contracts for post-season games before 6 p.m. Nov. 21.

"The Orange Bowl committee will not contact anybody until the appropriate time allocated by the NCAA..." Baldwin said. "We haven't even seen Notre Dame play yet."

Notre Dame's athletic director, Ed "Moose" Krause, also denied the account in a telephone interview with the Miami Herald.

Pappas Picks Orioles to Win Series

By GORDON BEARD
Associated Press Sports Writer
BALTIMORE (AP) — Mill Pappas, who has pitched for both teams, picks the Baltimore Orioles over the Cincinnati Reds in the World Series opening Saturday in Cincinnati.

"I pick the Orioles in five games," was the surprising prediction today from Pappas, the only National League pitcher to hurl a shutout over the powerful Reds this season.

"The Orioles and Reds have the same kind of teams—good power, great defense and speed," Pappas said. "If the Orioles have an edge going into the Series, it's with their starting pitchers."

"It's true what everybody says about Cincinnati's hitting, but I think the Baltimore pitchers have a better shot against the Reds than Cincinnati pitchers do against the Orioles."

Right-handed Jim Palmer, a 20-game winner during the regular season, will start for Baltimore in the first game, followed by left-handers Mike Cuellar and Dave McNally, both 24-game winners.

"After the Reds use Gary Nolan," said Pappas, who started the season with Atlanta and finished with the Chicago Cubs, "I think they'll have to start going to their bullpen."

"If you get good pitching against Cincinnati, you can win your share, and I believe the Orioles can get it."

Pappas, who pitched just 11 innings in the minors before joining Baltimore as an 18-year-old in 1957, won 110 games with the Orioles before being traded to the Reds after the 1965 season in the deal which sent outfielder Frank Robinson to Baltimore.

When he visited the Orioles at practice Wednesday, Pappas was asked if he were looking for a World Series salary share. "Make it retroactive," he cracked, "and I'll take it."

He referred to the three World Series the Orioles have made since he left Baltimore.

Palmer, who pitched the final game of Baltimore's three-game American League playoff sweep over Minnesota Monday, got the starting job from Manager Earl Weaver in game No. 1 because of Cincinnati's predominantly right-handed hitting power.

That means Cuellar will have seven days rest by the time he starts Sunday and McNally eight by next Tuesday. To get some needed work, they'll be used in an intrasquad no-run, no-slide game today which resembles a football dummy scrimmage.

A judge will decide whether each ball hit by a batter is either an out or a safety. If ruled a hit, the batter will walk to base—avoiding nearly all chance of injury.

The four-day layoff after winning the pennant by scoring 27 runs on 36 hits comes at an inopportune time for the Orioles.

"It may not hurt us," Robinson said, "but it can't help us. The practice game might help a little, but it's just not like game conditions."

The Orioles, who leave for Cincinnati Friday morning, have not lost since Sept. 19. They won their final 11 games of the regular season and then added three more in the playoffs.

The Reds are favored by 11-10 odds to win the Series, however.

The Journal article, written by sports editor Ferman Bisher, said "a gusher of denials" would no doubt follow the report "but the source has a better record for accuracy than those who'll do the denying, and it surely fits into Notre Dame's desire to spread itself around post-seasonally."

A-State Is Still Rated Best in U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Arkansas State held its No. 1 position in the Associated Press small college football poll today but found a new challenger breathing down its neck.

Montana, winner of its four games, moved ahead of Akron in the runner-up spot as Akron fell to third in a close vote.

A special panel representing all parts of the country selects the teams, ranking 15 on a special point formula. A first place vote counts 20 points, second 18 and so on down the line.

Arkansas State, which beat The Citadel 24-7 for its third straight triumph of the season, received seven of the 18 first place votes cast. Six went to Montana, which whipped Weber State 38-29. Akron collected four and Tennessee State the other.

Akron won over Ball State 31-0 and has a 4-0 record.

Rounding out the Top Ten were North Dakota State, Texas A&I, Tennessee State, Eastern Michigan, Tampa, Southern Illinois and Western Kentucky.

Delaware, which lost to Villanova 34-31, and Drake, beaten by North Texas State 37-13, fell from the Top Ten. They were replaced by Southern Illinois and Western Kentucky.

Southern Illinois leaped from 15th to ninth on a 32-16 victory over Lamar Tech. Western Kentucky tied East Tennessee State.

Trouble Free Series, Umps Take Offer

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—Play ball. Two little words sum up a long day of hard-nosed bargaining Wednesday that gave major league umpires a new, four-year contract and paved the way for a trouble-free World Series.

"I'm glad we can get back to bats and balls now," said smiling Joe Cronin, the American League president, after the settlement providing umpires with $4,000 per man for playoff work and $7,500 for the series the first two years and $4,000 and $8,000 the last two.

Baseball management also threw in a $500 raise to $1,000 for working an All-Star game and some improvements in medical care. The contract is retroactive to the 1970 season and covers 1973.

The contract, whacked out after almost eight hours of closed-door meeting in the offices of Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn, eliminated the possibility of a series strike by the Major League Umpires Association.

The umpires and their lawyer, Jack Reynolds, were asking for $5,000 and $10,000 for the playoffs and World Series. They were paid $2,500 and $6,500 under the old agreement.

Meeting with the umpires were Kuhn, Cronin and National League President Charles "Chub" Feeney, and their lawyer.

The association had been negotiating with management since August and when they weren't able to agree on a contract, the umpires struck the opening games of the playoffs Saturday in Pittsburgh and Minneapolis-St. Paul.

Retired and part-time umpires and minor leaguers were hastily called in during the emergency to plug the gap.

But major league umpires gained support of local unions, who refused to cross their picket lines the second day, and secured a temporary working agreement Sunday.

Bass Tournery Near

MILLWOOD RESERVOIR (Ark.)—With the Big Bass on the prowl and tournament time, October 10 and 11, drawing near, Bass fishermen from some sixteen states are chomping at the bit to drop their favorite lures in the waters of "Big Bass Loaded" Mill Wood Reservoir.

"Daily reports from Cypress Slough Boat Dock on Mill Wood of lots of 5, 6, and 7 pounders coming in daily on limit strings are most encouraging," reported American Anglers Association's President John Fox, promoter of this prestigious event. "There will be more pounds of Bass caught per contestant in this tournament than any in the history of Bass Tournaments."

"This fabulous lake is literally full of chunky 5 pounders and the good thing about this lake being so abundant in good bass is that any contestant stands a chance of winning the championship."

Since the original $14,900 purse was posted, Chrysler Outboard has donated a new 1971 45 HP Chrysler Outboard Motor; Garcia Corporation 6 Rods, 6 Reels and other merchandise; Berkley & Company 2 Rods and Spools of line, Cordell Tackle, Whopper Stopper, Rebel, Norman Lures, Championship Bait Co., and Sportsman, have all donated their related line of baits where virtually each contestant is assured of winning something."

A 1971 Sand Piper Bass Boat by South Coast Manufacturing of Bosier City, Louisiana will be awarded to the contestant traveling the farthest distance to compete in the tournament. These added merchandise prizes has boosted the prize list to an approximate $17,500, making this event the Richest Bass Tournament ever held in the U. S. A.

"The two-man team champions in addition to winning a $1,000.00 U. S. Savings Bond will be awarded each a one week vacation for two at Stone's Landing at famous Big Bass Lake Seminole in Georgia. The entry fee of $25.00 per man is attracting a good field in this event," said AAA President

Thursday, October 8, 1970

Fox.
"In the individual event, for a $100.00 entry fee a contestant can win a $1,500 U. S. Savings Bond and a fabulous three-day vacation to the Dunes Hotel in Las Vegas for the winner, to $100.00 in merchandise for 20th place. Each contestant competing in the individual event will fish with a Boy Scout as an observer for both days of the tournament, a first ever in any Bass Tournament. This means a contestant will not have to share his favorite Bass with another Bass fisherman; all of the contestants like this idea," commented Fox.

"We will have a good number of contestants that will fish both the singles and the two man team event, and, who knows—some might win both events like the 1969 Champion, Joe Kennedy of Norman, Oklahoma, did last year and have a real pay day. As in our last two tournaments, we guarantee lots of fun for everyone and a square tournament that gives anyone a shot at the title. All contestants will draw for observers on Friday night at Cypress Slough Boat Dock on Mill Wood at 7:00 p.m. following a Free Fish Fry," Fox said.

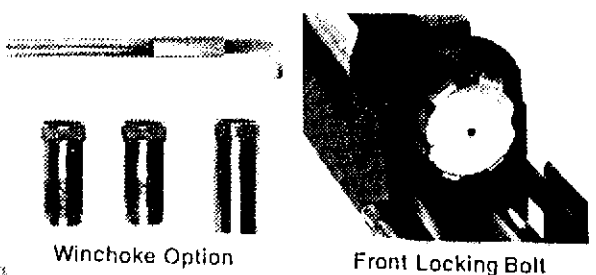

Official rules and tournament applications are available from the Texarkana Chamber of Commerce or the American Anglers Association, Route 4, San Augustine, Texas. Further information can be obtained by calling Area Code 713-275-3485 or 275-2458 and asking for John Fox.

The Duck Kit

It takes a pretty rugged man to greet the cold and rigors of duck hunting and he needs a troublefree shotgun to match. That's why the rustproof aluminum receiver on the Winchester 1400 autoloader and the 1200 slide action finds such favor. Both of these fine shotguns blend fit, feel and performance with advanced engineering (such as a front locking steel bolt) to bring duck hunters the kind of shotgun they need. One of the reasons the light recoil 1400 and the fast shucking 1200 work so well for waterfowl shooters is that they are designed, tested and built by shooters — people who bring something extra to their job — the personal knowledge of what works best.

But it takes more than just a fine shotgun to bring home ducks — it takes the long range, knock-down power of either Western Super-X or Winchester Super-Speed shot shells. Made of tough plastic, formed under 35,000 pounds of compression, these advanced loads also feature the Mark 5 collar that protects shot down the barrel for full, dense patterns. So team a 1200 or 1400 with Super-X or Super-Speed — they work better together and you'll do better with them.

Rookies Key Men for Two Hockey Teams

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Two exciting rookies moving directly from amateur hockey into the National Hockey League are the key men for the Buffalo Sabres and Vancouver Canucks—newest members of the NHL.

The Sabres are depending heavily on highly-touted Gil Perreault, a rangy center, who was the No. 1 amateur pick, while the Canucks are countering with Dale Tallon, who can play up front as well as on defense.

The addition of the two new clubs—both will be playing in the East Division with Chicago shifting to the West—increases NHL membership to 14 teams for the 1970-71 season which opens Friday.

The Sabres won a coin flip with the Canucks for the top draft choice and immediately grabbed Perreault, who is described as another Jean Beliveau. The youngster was drafted out of the Montreal system and scored 51 goals and 70 assists to lead the Junior Canadiens to the Memorial Cup last year.

Tallon, picked from the Toronto Marlboros, had 39 goals last season and at 6-1, 195 is as comfortable on defense as he is up front.

But the most interesting new defenseman in the league is playing the right side for the Detroit Red Wings. He's 42-year-old Gordie Howe, who after 24 years and 783 career goals as a right winger has been moved to the blue line by Coach Ned Harkness.

Harkness, moving to the NHL after a highly successful coaching career at Cornell, is one of seven new bench bosses in the league.

The others are Jackie Gordon at Minnesota, Al Arbour at St. Louis, Larry Regan, who doubles as general manager at Los Angeles, Tom Johnson with Stanley Cup champion Boston, Punch Imlach at Buffalo and Hal Laycoe at Vancouver. Only Imlach, who was head man at Toronto for 11 seasons, and Laycoe, who lasted one-half season at LA, have prior NHL coaching experience.

The two new teams have several familiar faces in their lineups, courtesy of a less-than distinguished expansion draft pool. Vancouver's best, after Tallon, would appear to be Ray Cullen, who produced 71 goals in three seasons for Minnesota including 17 last year, and Orland Kurtenbach, trying to come back from major surgery.

Buffalo came up with 37-year-old Phil Goyette, the No. 4 scorer in the league and Lady Byng winner last year from St. Louis, as well as goalie Roger Crozier from Detroit.

Montreal, which missed the playoffs for the first time in 22 years, dealt away veterans Ted Harris and Bobby Rousseau to Minnesota and came up with Billy Collins, and Claude Larose from the North Stars.

Toronto, hoping to battle its way back into the playoffs after missing out last year, purchased 41-year-old goalie Jacques Plante from St. Louis. Plante will back up regular Bruce Gamble.

In the West, Los Angeles, which set an NHL record with 52 losses last year, underwent a shakeup with several new faces dotting the lineup, the most notable being Bob Pulford, veteran forward acquired from Toronto.

Minnesota came up with Murray Oliver from the Maple Leafs as well as defenseman Harris and right wing Rousseau, a career 200-goal scorer, from Montreal.

St. Louis acquired Jim Lorentz from Boston's Cup champs and Chris Bordeleau from Montreal as well as exchanging defensemen with LA as Ray Fortin moved West for Bob Wall.

The other teams are basically unchanged as the league starts its 54th season of operation.

Hockey League to Try to Break Ties

NEW YORK (AP) — The National Hockey League will try a new way of breaking end-of-season ties this year, eliminating last year's controversial goal-scoring system.

The NHL Board of Governors ruled Wednesday that ties in the standings at the end of the regulation schedule would be settled by giving the advantage to the team with the greatest number of victories.

If clubs have won the same number of games, the board ruled, the tie will be broken by the highest number of points earned among the competing teams in their own games over the season.

Should the tie still exist, it then would be broken by the team with the best record in its own division.

Some criticism arose last year of the system which broke ties with the team that had the most goals over the season. The New York Rangers squeezed into a playoff berth on the last day by scoring nine goals against a Detroit team that had a playoff berth clinched.

In other business, the NHL settled its indemnification dispute with the Western and American Hockey leagues over the annexation of the Vancouver and Buffalo territories. The AHL will receive $750,000 from the Buffalo Sabres and the WHL will get the same amount from the Vancouver Canucks, said NHL President Clarence Campbell.

The league also hiked its draft claiming price from $30,000 to $40,000 but kept its waiver price at $30,000, and voted to abandon its face-off experiment which had been tested during the training camp period. Campbell said the trial was unsuccessful.

The league also announced that the financially-plagued Pittsburgh Penguins would remain in Pittsburgh despite reports that the team might be transferred elsewhere.

Both teams opened their seasons with victories last week. The Shoats whipped SMU's Colts 30-13 and the Picadors rolled over New Mexico Military Junior College 55-7.

Simpson Will Play With Denver Team

NEW YORK (AP) — College ace Ralph Simpson will be playing pro ball this year with the Denver Rockets, thanks to a decision by the American Basketball Association's board of trustees.

"The owners felt very strongly about the signing but they didn't feel the boy should be penalized, and the courts said he shouldn't be," ABA Commissioner Jack Dolph said Wednesday after the trustees voted to let Simpson fulfill his contract with the Rockets.

Dolph, however, said the Rockets would be fined $10,000 for signing Simpson as a hardship case without first informing the league, and the team also would lose its No. 1 college draft pick next year.

"The trustee's decision is that he will play in Denver," said Dolph. "It was a complicated thing and we didn't want to complicate it any further by throwing him up for grabs."

"The Simpson matter underscores the pressing need for a single expanded basketball league so that the economic and competitive pressures that lead to such a signing can be eliminated."

"We'll do everything in our power to keep this from occurring again."

The ABA and the older National Basketball Association have agreed to merge in principle, but still need the approval of Congress.

Earlier Wednesday, it was announced that the four-year-old ABA had signed a near-million dollar television contract with the CBS network to show the All-Star game Jan. 23, an unspecified number of weekend regular season games and at least two playoff games. The NBA is believed to have a $17.5-million, five-year pact with ABC-TV.

The 6-foot-5 Simpson averaged 29 points a game in the backcourt for Michigan State in his sophomore year last season and was voted to the All-Big Ten team.

He had signed March 17 with the Rockets, but Dolph had said then he would not be allowed to play because he still had two years of eligibility at Michigan State.

But Simpson sued the Rockets for $3 million and late last month a federal judge in Southern Michigan issued an injunction allowing him to play. That left the final decision up to the league.

Simpson, one of the few high school players ever asked to try out for the U.S. Olympic team, signed a "multi-year contract for a lot of money," according to Don Ringsby, the Rockets' president.

Simpson has eight younger brothers and sisters. His parents are separated and his mother and the children live on welfare, said Ringsby.

He came to Denver because a former high school teammate, Spencer Haywood, also signed with the Rockets as a hardship case out of Detroit University.

Kansas State Is Placed on Probation

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The Big Eight Conference placed Kansas State University's football program and all sports programs at the University of Kansas on probation Wednesday.

The K-State football team also is prohibited from appearing in postseason games or on television programs controlled by the National Collegiate Athletic Association.

K-State's probation and the additional sanctions extends through the 1972 football season. It does not affect the Wildcats eligibility for the conference football championship.

Kansas' probation is for two years.

Commissioner Wayne Duke said the action was taken by faculty representatives, the conference's legislative body.

Coach Vince Gibson of Kansas State was reprimanded for "failure to administer, supervise and apply the rules of the Big Eight Conference and the NCAA in the conduct of the sport of football ..."

Coach Broyles Disappointed With Session

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP) — Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles said he was disappointed with his offensive unit following a 90-minute workout here Wednesday.

"It was lousy, I should say," Broyles said. "I bragged on them Tuesday and they didn't practice well today."

Broyles said captains for the Saturday night game with Baylor would be split end Chuck Dicus, guard Ronnie Hammers, halfback Jerry Moore and end Bruce James.

Duke said the action against K-State resulted from violations in four categories, financial aid, unethical conduct, scholastic eligibility and recruiting practices.

Officials at K-State said they were disappointed in the severity of the action.

Athletic Council Chairman C. Clyde Jones said it was hoped the conference would have taken "more lenient treatment" in view of remedial action taken earlier by the school.

In addition to placing KU programs on probation, the faculty representatives ordered that assistant coach Dick Tomey be denied participation in the school's recruiting program until May 31, 1972 and reprimanded John Novotny.

Freshmen to Play Tech at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The University of Arkansas freshmen make their only Little Rock appearance of the season tonight, meeting Texas Tech's Picadors.

Both teams opened their seasons with victories last week.

The Shoats whipped SMU's Colts 30-13 and the Picadors rolled over New Mexico Military Junior College 55-7.

Longhorn Fans Prepping for Oklahoma

By JACK KEEVER
Associated Press Writer
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas Longhorn football fans started prepping Wednesday for the nationally televised game with Oklahoma Saturday.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal, a former Oklahoma quarterback, told a Longhorn Club luncheon audience of 700 that "Oklahoma is every bit the equal of us, and those of you who think it will be a shoo-in are in for another rude shock."

"I don't think the outcome will be decided until the final few minutes," he said.

The audience included University of Texas Chancellor Charles LeMaistre who had to sit in the balcony because of the crowd, which has been getting larger every week as No. 2-ranked Texas tried to keep its 23-game winning streak intact.

Defensive halfback Danny Lester, won of the stars of Texas' 20-17 victory over UCLA in the final 12 seconds last Saturday, may miss a chance, because of an injury, to play against his old Amarillo high school teammate, Money Johnson, starting safety for the Sooners.

Johnson transferred to OU after his freshman year at Texas, but Lester switched from split receiver to the defensive backfield, where he has started for two years.

The swift Lester dived through the air with his arms extended and grazed the ball on an unsuccessful 33-yard field goal attempt by UCLA, enabling the Longhorns to win on the climatic 45-yard touchdown pass play from Eddie Phillips to Charles Speyrer.

But Lester limped off after rushing the kicker, and Royal said he is still on crutches with a sprained arch.

Royal said prior to the season that the defensive secondary was the spot where his squad could not afford an injury.

Once Unlikely, Now Redfield Is Growing

By JOHN GANNAWAY
Pine Bluff Commercial

REDFIELD, Ark. (AP)—The town of Redfield in northern Jefferson County has been around for a long time and for most of that time it was virtually indistinguishable from numerous other Arkansas towns in the 200-population class.

Only a few years ago a boom for the town would have appeared to be about as likely as the New York Mets winning the World Series.

Quite apart from anything going on in the town, there were things being done that would eventually prove to be of great benefit to Redfield.

The Arkansas River navigation project and the interstate highway system were being developed.

Redfield was in a good geographical location, about halfway between Little Rock and Pine Bluff urban areas. The four-lane highway to Little Rock begins only a short distance north of the town and the Arkansas River is only a short distance to the east.

Walter Stancil Glasgow, Redfield mayor, said it became obvious that the town was in a position to reap some benefits from these developments and he credits the city aldermen with overcoming some initial opposition and getting things started.

John Cunningham has developed a housing project that promises to perhaps double the population of Redfield.

Glasgow said Cunningham plans to build a total of 96 housing units in the project.

"There weren't many more (houses) than that in Redfield when this thing started," he said.

The housing development has attracted several people who work in Little Rock, Glasgow said. With the four-lane highway completed, it is only a short trip to the city and it is possible to go from Redfield to certain places in Little Rock almost as fast as people who have to drive across the city, he said.

If the area is to attract more people and thus more state turn-back funds, services must be provided, Glasgow said. The town already has a water system and needs a sewer system, he said. An application for sewer system funds from the Farmers Home Administration was turned down some time ago. But, Glasgow said, it is hoped that with the new developments, the city will be able to receive such funds in the near future.

A City Hall is also under construction.

In addition to providing a meeting place for the council, the new building will be a boon to the keeping of the city's records. Filing space at present is pretty scarce, Glasgow said. Most of the records are kept either in Glasgow's home or truck and specific items are difficult to locate, he said.

Glasgow said it was unusual for a town the size of Redfield to have such a building and that the town could not have afforded it had there not been a number of people willing to donate cash, materials and labor. As it stands, the building is going to cost the city about $5,000.

The new pressure of increasing city business have also had an effect on Glasgow's business. About a year ago he ran the Redfield Telephone Co. virtually by himself. The company was then the second smallest independent telephone company in the state. However, the then smallest company sold out to a larger operation, leaving Glasgow the title if smallest independent.

Despite this, the pressures of the telephone business and city government forced him to hire an assistant, Jack Ross of Pine Bluff, a 12-year Bell Telephone Co. veteran, who now handles most of the telephone company business.

The city is also working to improve its volunteer Fire Department. At present, there are 14 volunteers under director Rayburn Smith. Eventual plans are to add a fire station on the

In JACOBY MODERN the opening two-club bid often shows a 23-24 point no-trump. North's two-heart response showed 4-6 points and South's two no-trump rebid announced that he had a no-trump-type holding. He wanted to be in game because 23 plus 4 equals 27 but he didn't want to hurry matters. Maybe North would want to get into a suit contract.

North certainly did. His three-club call was Stayman. We use Stayman after opening one and two no-trump calls and after two clubs that is followed by a two no-trump rebid. South responded to Stayman with three spades and North raised to game.

West opened the queen of diamonds and South saw that he would have his work cut out for him at the spade game. He decided to leave trumps alone for awhile and to see what could be done about ruffing a couple of his cards in dummy.

He cashed the ace and king of diamonds and ruffed a third diamond low. Then he led a heart toward his hand. East's 10 lost to South's king. Now South led his last diamond. When West followed South carefully discarded a club from dummy. There was no point sending a low trump like a lamb to the slaughter.

West was on lead and played a heart to East's jack. Back came the jack of clubs. The queen was finessed unsuccessfully and the defense had three tricks in. That was all they could get. Actually a club was returned. South won ruffed his last club in dummy and ran off the rest of the tricks in trumps.

All this was rather lucky but four spades did make while three no-trump would almost surely have gone down.

rear of the City Hall, Glasgow said.

The Arkansas River holds great promise for the area, both improving recreation opportunities and in industrial development, Glasgow said.

The industrial prospects for the area also look good, Glasgow said. There are to be bluffs in the immediate area that would be fine locations for industries needing river transportation, he said. The University of Arkansas made a study of the area and found it could be effectively developed as an industrial area, he said.

Glasgow and the other city officials feel optimistic about the future of the Redfield area. Almost all of the developments have been of recent origin, but things have been going fast, he said.

Most Normal People Can Exercise Safely

By LAWRENCE E. LAMB, M.D.

Unless you have a serious illness or unusual problem there is no reason you can't exercise. If you have serious doubts about your health, you should see your doctor and find out exactly what you can do.

Many of life's normal situations will cause the heart to work harder than some forms of light exercise. Apprehension or excitement may cause the heart rate and blood pressure to go up—increasing the work of the heart. You can't escape having changes in the level of heart work unless you are emotionally dead.

For most people who have been inactive for a long time the right place to start is by walking. You don't need to hurry when you start. Enjoy your walk and you are more likely to include it in your living habits. Start with 15 minutes a day if you tire easily. Gradually increase your walk to 30 minutes. If half an hour is no problem, increase your level to one hour a day—or two 30-minute walks a day.

After you have reached the level of walking one hour a day for two weeks, you can consider the advisability of doing something more strenuous. If you tire with one hour of walking, after a gradual build-up program, you are not ready to go on to higher levels of exercise and probably should see your doctor. If you get short of breath or have chest pain with walking, discontinue your program until you can get a good examination.

Assuming you pass the walking phase with flying colors, if you need more exercise there is a variety of you can choose from. One of my favorites is to recommend using a stationary bicycle. Get one that allows you to put some tension on the wheel, to cause some work for the leg muscles. Don't try to exercise at too heavy a load or to pedal too fast. A steady, everyday approach is the right way. You can pedal while you watch your favorite TV program. The cycle is a good way for the weekend TV sports spectator to get some exercise.

Jogging and running programs should be undertaken only by the young or those obviously in reasonably good health. Even the young need the preliminary walking period to strengthen ankles, tendons and muscles.

The key to a successful exercise program is a gradual increase in level of activity and for most adults never pushing one's self to maximum effort.

America was named for Amerigo Vespucci, an Italian reputed to have made four voyages to the New World (1497-1503). The World Almanac says that Martin Waldseemüller, a German geographer, first used the name to honor Vespucci in a book published in 1507.

New Breed of Doctors Now Appearing

By ANN BLACKMAN
Associated Press Writer

Dr. Chris Ramsey is 28. This year he turned down numerous $30,000 and up offers from medical schools, drug and insurance companies and private foundations.

Instead, he draws a $12,000-a-year salary from the Washington-based organization he founded while still in medical school, the Institute for Study of Health and Society.

Ramsey is one of a new breed of doctor dedicated to improving the quality and delivery of medical care in America.

"I don't intend to practice the traditional methods of medicine," said Ramsey, whose four-year-old government-funded institute was set up to study medical, dental, educational and legal needs of individual communities.

"You can't look at the health care problems alone. You have to look at the needs of the whole community. The problem is there are just too few opportunities for students who want to innovate within the system."

"The health situation in this country is in desperate straits. The medical schools are beginning to respond but they need some prodding," he said.

The prodders in this case are the medical students themselves. And as a result, almost 85 per cent of the country's medical schools have added courses in community medicine to their curricula.

"Almost all the medical students are aware of the problems and want to do something about them," said Dr. Alexander Leaf, chief of medical services at Massachusetts General Hospital in Boston. "Last spring, I surveyed 42 interns and residents. None of them wanted to go into private practice and 38 wanted to develop group practices."

A 1968 poll of graduating seniors at the three medical schools in Boston failed to turn up one student with the intention of entering general practice.

Dr. Joseph W. Gardella, who for 15 years has been dean of student affairs at Harvard Medical School, analyzed the influences, ideas and goals of today's medical students in a recent interview in his Boston office.

"They've a greater sense of social awareness, a real sense of compassion, a great concern for injustice and a seriousness of purpose I haven't seen in any other generation—so much, in fact, that it often impairs their sense of humor," he said.

He continued: "Today's medical student will devote infinite time and energy to achieving his purposes if he thinks they are just and right. I've developed a great sense of respect for the contemporary student. He's seeking a different life style, different goals and different values. He's very concerned about not being trapped in social regimentation."

"My generation of doctors was concerned with Social Success. It was a fun-loving, elitist society interested in a more material, highly organized way of life which provided for security, comfort and success. The present day students are impossible to understand if your concepts and standards are of a former generation," he said.

"We're entering the era of community medicine where students are concerned that the delivery of medical care of all segments of society be based on need rather than finances," said Dr. Daniel H. Funkenstein, associate professor of psychiatry at the Massachusetts Mental Health Center and a leader in efforts to reform medical school goals and curricula.

"In 1958, everyone wanted to be a specialist. Today 90 per cent of the students want to go into group practice or community medicine," Funkenstein said in an interview in his Cape Cod home.

"Another factor," he said, "is that the Nixon administration has cut loans and research funds tremendously. With money for scientific research grants drying up, students have little choice but to turn to a different kind of medicine."

In fiscal 1970, Congress cut appropriations for medical research by 5 and 10 per cent, depending on the project. The President has requested a 6 per cent increase for medical research in his 1971 fiscal budget.

Dr. Michael McGarvey, 28, assistant to the president of

New York City's new Health and Hospitals Corp., said more money will not necessarily answer the problem, but that changes have to be made in the way money for health care is spent.

"Right now this country is spending $63 billion for medical care. By 1975, we're predicted to spend $100 billion for health services and people will probably not be better off. In fact, they may very well be worse off if change is not imminent," he said.

"Of this $63 billion, only $4 billion is spent on research, medical innovative programs and health centers," he continued. "And only about $800 million goes into research for changing the way health care services are organized."

McGarvey, a founder of the Student Health Organization in 1964 and a 1967 graduate of the University of Southern California School of Medicine, said that right now he would rather work to improve the city's delivery of medical care than go into private practice.

Capote Still Sought for Contempt

By JOHN PHILIP SOUSA
Associated Press Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — California authorities say they have spent 3½ fruitless months trying to track down author Truman Capote and arrest him on a contempt of court charge—but they're still looking.

Capote is accused of failing to respond to a prosecution subpoena in a murder penalty trial in Santa Ana. A bench warrant for him was issued June 22 in Superior Court.

Since then, Gerald Stevens of the district attorney's office said Tuesday, authorities have tried in vain to get in touch with the author either directly or through his attorney.

Stevens said he believed the 46-year-old author, who has an apartment in New York, a house on Long Island and a desert retreat in Palm Springs, Calif., is now on the Spanish island of Mallorca.

"We have made arrangements," Stevens said in an interview. "If Mr. Capote is found in California we'll arrest him." Capote, author of "In Cold Blood" and "Breakfast at Tiffany's," had interviewed the defendant in a murder trial, Joseph Morse, in 1967 while Morse was in jail awaiting sentencing for killing his mother and sister, Stevens said.

Soon after, Morse, 25, strangled a fellow inmate. He was tried and convicted of murder again. Capote was subpoenaed to testify at Morse's penalty trial in this second case.

Morse eventually was sentenced to death for the inmate's death and to life imprisonment for the deaths of his mother and sister.

Dist. Atty. Don Keller said Morse told Capote in the interview that if he ever got out of prison he would kill again.

"Naturally this was a very important item of information for the prosecution," Keller said, "and we wanted to use those statements then in Mr. Capote's possession."

Stevens, the district attorney's office chief investigator in the case, emphasized that Capote is no longer wanted as a witness but solely to face contempt of court charges.

Morse is in San Quentin prison while the death penalty sentence is being appealed.

State law allows a judge discretion in imposing a sentence for contempt of court. Penalties generally range from three days to a month in jail, a fine, or both.

Senator Has Surgery

BERLIN, Vt. (AP) — Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., 78, has undergone what an aide described as routine surgery at Central Vermont Hospital.

The aide said Aiken was feeling well after the operation Tuesday and expected to be out of the hospital in four days to a week. Aiken is ranking Republican member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

If you are subject to soreness in the joints, it's much safer to stay out of saloons.

Triple Crown Winner's Son to Try

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — It was just four years ago that John F. Simpson drove Ayres to the coveted triple crown for harness racing trotters, winning the Yonkers Futurity, the Hambletonian and the Kentucky Futurity.

Simpson will be on the sidelines Friday, but he will be watching his son, John Jr., try to annex a second triple crown jewel for Ayres' son, Timothy T. Already a winner in the Hambletonian, Timothy T. is the heavy favorite in the 70th Futurity here, the richest in the history of the race if all 12 starters face the gate.

The colt, owned by the elder Simpson, has earned $207,133 in taking 10 of 13 races this season and has such credits behind him as the Colonial and the Pennsylvania Sires Stakes — those two in the past two weeks.

His chief rival in the $76,351 Futurity is Formal Notice, owned by the Allwood Stables and driven by Jimmy Arthur, a winner of one Hambletonian beat in the fine timing of 1:58.2-5.

Also threatening are Farmstead Acres' Gil Hanover, winner of six of 11 races this season, and Flour de Hundred Farms' Gunner, in the money 15 of 18 times out this year.

Rockets Go to Another Court Now

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Denver Rockets have decided the commissioner of the American Basketball Association and won their case in court, but it is going to be still more difficult to win on the court.

The Rockets ignored Commissioner Jack Dolph's ruling that they could not play rookie sensation Ralph Simpson of Michigan State this season, instead taking the case to court and persuading a judge that Simpson should be allowed to play.

But that's only one-third of their battle to retain their Western Division title in the ABA. The other two-thirds to be conquered are the Utah Stars and the Indiana Pacers.

The Stars, formerly in Los Angeles, were the young team that finished fourth in the division last season and then surprised the Rockets in the playoffs. This year the Stars are much stronger with the addition of three outstanding veterans—Zelmo Beaty, Don Freeman and Red Robbins.

Indianapolis, moved into the West this season, was the team that won it all in 1969-70, beating the Stars in six games for the title, and the Pacers have back that same team, along with highly paid and publicized rookie Rick Mount.

It should be a three-way dogfight for the divisions crown, with the Texas Chaparrals and Memphis Pros, formerly the New Orleans Buccaneers, battling for the fourth playoff spot.

Simpson is a 6-foot-5 guard signed out of college after only his sophomore year. The Rockets called him a hardship case. But he hasn't been any hardship on the court, where he has burned up the exhibition season after averaging 29 points a game in Big Ten play last year.

And don't forget Spencer Haywood, Denver's rookie phenom last season, who won the scoring and rebounding title and Most Valuable Players honors. Together, Haywood and Simpson comprise the best 1-2 combination in the league.

Simpson will be taking the place of traded 25-point a game scorer Larry Jones. For Jones, the Rockets got from the Floridians Don Sidle, a 6-foot-9 veteran who scored 20.8 points and pulled in 13.9 rebounds per contest last season.

The other starters from 1969—70, Byron Beck, Julian Hammond and Lonnie Wright are back, along with rookie Dan Hester of Louisiana State.

Coach Bill Sharman has refurbished the Stars with the addition of the 6-9 Beaty, for years a star in the NBA; 6-3 Freeman, a 27.3 scorer for the Floridians, and 6-8 Robbins, who brings a 16.3 point and 16.2 rebound average. They replaced traded Craig Raymond, Mack Calvin and Tom Washington, who totaled only 38 points between them.

George Stone, 16-0, and Willie Wise, 15.2, return with Merv Jackson.

Indiana won the East last season by 14 games with their power-packed front line of 6-9 Bob Netolicky, 20.6 and 10.7; 6-5 Roger Brown, 23 points, and 6-9 Mel Daniels, 18.8 and 17.6, and all three are back. Bob Leonard also has returning his two guards, 6-0 Fred Lewis, 16.4, and 5-10 Bill Keller. However, Mount, although he hasn't particularly glowed, probably will take Keller's place.

Memphis still has the best backcourt in the league in Jimmy and Steve Jones, although Jimmy is recovering from a knee operation. Raymond takes Robbins' place.

Texas added 6-9 Gene Moore from Kentucky, but had to give up Cincy Powell. Back though are starters John Beasley, Ron Boone, Glen Combs and Manny Leaks, a team that finished second to Denver last season.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset Love for the Game Lures Women Golfers

By KAROL STONGER
Associated Press Sports Writer

ON THE LADIES PROFESSIONAL GOLF TOUR (AP) — Big money, big galleries, international fame—that's what men's professional golf is all about.

It must be pure love for the game that lures women golfers to tournaments marked by small purses, few spectators and little of the national television coverage that glamorizes the men's tour.

Kathy Farrer, 26, and Linda Craft, 32, are two of the 60 or so regulars on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tournament trail, where top prize is $6,000 compared to $60,000 for the richest of men's tournaments.

Kathy is from Decatur, Ala., and a nurse by education. Linda, who claims to have put her hometown of Jacksboro, Tex., on the map, has a B.S. degree in psychology.

Of necessity they live and travel together.

Both have yet to win a tournament.

As also-rans, each last year earned slightly more than $2,000 for eight months of tournament play. While manufacturers provide the girls with golf equipment and they buy their clothing wholesale, it still costs each about $8,000 a year to practice her profession.

Wealthy men make up the difference.

"Sponsors," said Kathy. "Some do it to brag, some for the pure love of the sport. If they're corporations, they use it as a tax loss."

Kathy's sponsor is a family friend, Linda's, until last April, was a Miami millionaire.

"It was a battle between Dow Jones and me and Dow Jones won," said Linda of her sponsor's decision to drop her in the stock market slump. "Now I'm writing checks on dear ol' dad."

Dad is a rancher.

Kathy, who joined the circuit in 1968 after winning the state amateur title, said she had no intention of turning professional.

"My education came first," she said. "Then I worked 16 months but found that nursing was interfering with my golf. I figured that making golf a full-time career was the only way I could reach my potential."

Linda, who has been playing golf only five years, three of them as a pro, is less philosophical.

"About the only thing you can do with a B.S. in psychology is empty bedpans," she said.

So here they are, winless homeles, almost penniless—but driving sun-drenched, tree-lined fairways and putting velvety greens four hours each of four days a week. But golf isn't just the game.

The tourney ends Sunday. If they're lucky they may have won enough to cover their expenses that week. Or they may have won nothing at all.

They head back to their room—one of 30 or so cubies they occupy each tournament season.

They kick off their shoes, jump into their cut-offs, fix a drink and start packing.

Anything they can't stuff into 10 pieces of luggage is shoved into the car trunk, stacked on the rear floor or slung over the back seat.

It's all they own—except for "Maude" and a Betty Crocker cookbook. The cookbook they use when they spend the off-season in Florida, sharing an apartment and trying to make ends meet by teaching or giving exhibitions.

"Maude" is a silver blue 1968 air-conditioned automobile, a gift of Linda's former sponsor, which carries them over 45,000 miles of highway each year.

It's in Maude, this Sunday night, that they drive 300 miles, dead tired, check into another motel for another tournament, an unpack.

Monday is scouting day. Scouting for the nearest and cheapest coin-operated laundry; for vittles at the supermarket; for spirits at the liquor store; for cheap restaurants and, possibly, a cheaper motel.

What they save on motel rooms they spend for food—usually a mere $2 or $3 a day.

Tuesday is the day to tally up the previous week's expenses and to pay bills probably long overdue because forwarded mail sometimes takes three weeks to catch up. It's also the time to pen thank-you notes to sponsors, partners in the pro-

Wednesday, they get their first check at the course they'll be playing the rest of the week. Wednesday night usually is party night with the sponsors and the golf club as hosts.

At such functions, the roll is called. If the girls don't attend at least for the required 45 minutes they lose the privilege of having their liability insurance paid for by the LPGA.

Thursday is pro-am day, the best and the worst of times.

Aside from occasional misconduct on the part of their amateur partners, the girls have another gripe. "It's just common courtesy for the amateurs to pay our caddies," lamented Linda, "but some of them just walk away."

But it was at one such tourney that Linda and Kathy got a couple of new tires, compliments of a distributor who just happened to overhear someone remind Linda how threadbare Maude's were getting.

With the problems of living and the pressure of play for the next three days, the girls still have time to keep up with special interests and current events.

And neither is too busy to read her mail.

The tour, in a lot of respects, is just like college, except for the absence of men.

So they go out alone or sit in their room at night watching television.

And Sunday rolls around again.

How long will they last?

"My father figured it all out mathematically," said Kathy of John Farrer, a retired aero space engineer, "and it takes six years before you start winning. So I'll give it that long."

"Either I'll get off if I see I'm not going to make it," said Linda, "or when I've reached my potential I'll just enjoy it."

"Golf is an egotistical sport," added Kathy. "You concentrate on you. But you have to give up a lot to be a champion. I'd have been uneasy if I hadn't tried."

Proposal of Nixon at a Glance

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here, at a glance, is what President Nixon proposed in his nationally broadcast speech on Southeast Asia Wednesday night:

An immediate cease-fire, with both sides holding their present positions, with international supervision, no buildup of military strength, and extension of the cease-fire throughout Indochina.

Broadening of the Paris peace talks to include Laos and Cambodia as well as North and South Vietnam.

Negotiated withdrawal of all U.S. troops from Vietnam. He noted U.S. withdrawals will total 260,000 troops by next spring.

A political settlement that meets the aspirations of all South Vietnamese.

Immediate and unconditional release of all prisoners of war held by both sides.

Named Treasurer of Crittenden

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller Wednesday appointed Mrs. Jane Cato of Earle as treasurer of Crittenden County.

Reaction to Peace Plan Is Favorable

By H.L. SCHWARTZ III
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP)

Congressional reaction to President Nixon's Vietnam speech was virtually unanimous today with Republicans, Democrats, hawks and doves using such adjectives as "bold ... forthright ... fair ... comprehensive."

Most members of the House and Senate reached for comment, even those who have been most outspoken in their criticism of Nixon's Indochina policies, said the next move toward peace is up to Hanoi.

"I applaud the President's message and warmly endorse his plea for the immediate release of all prisoners of war," declared Sen. Frank Church, D-Idaho.

Church, a member of the highly critical Senate Foreign Relations Committee, was co-sponsor of legislation that would have cut off all funds for fighting in Cambodia.

Church said Nixon's proposals "constitute the most promising formula yet for achieving a negotiated settlement of the war in Indochina. I hope that Hanoi will not reject them out of hand."

Sen. John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., who with Church sponsored legislation that embroiled the Senate for nearly two months, called Nixon's proposals "comprehensive and fair."

"The immediate stopping of all warfare and killing and the exchange of prisoners of war are humane and difficult to be refused before the world," said Cooper.

Sen. J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, could not be reached for comment.

Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield, another persistent critic of Nixon's war policies said the President's speech was excellent.

"President Nixon has written a new chapter in the diplomatic history of the United States with his bold move to end this unpopular war," said Senate Republican Leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

"If these suggestions are turned down at Paris," said Scott, "the burden of the continuing war clearly, unmistakably and inexorably must be borne by the other side."

Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, the Maine Democrat who is a potential Nixon opponent in the 1972 presidential race, was somewhat more restrained in his comments, but said the proposals were "serious and Americans will recognize that."

"They are overdue from the White House, but nonetheless welcome," Muskie said in a statement.

"The days ahead," he added, "will require a new and wiser statemanship on the part of all concerned. This is no time for sloganeering or posturing. Saving the lives of thousands of Americans and Indochinese is what matters."

Semifinalists Appeared Here

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Sherry Mathis, 17, of Arkadelphia and Tamra Parker, 17, of Smackover were named Wednesday night as semifinalists in the State Fair and Livestock Show Queen contest here.

Miss Mathis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis Mathis and Miss Parker is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy Parker.

The fair queen will be named Saturday night.

Bumpers Pushes for Unity of Democrats

By JOHN R. STARR
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — With almost as much zeal as he pushed his candidacy for governor, Dale Bumpers preached Democratic party unification in his primary campaign.

He feels the party has been unified. Now, he says, he wants to unify the state.

"The theme of my campaign is: 'Let's get our state together,'" he said in an interview. "I can't say I want to be governor of all and be condemning segments of society. I'm trying not to say anything that has a polarizing effect."

His aim, he said, is to find a common ground on which rich and poor, black and white, management and labor can work together to build Arkansas.

Yes, he added, ground on which Democrats and Republicans can work together.

"People are tired of divisiveness which, in turn, brings chaos and discord," Bumpers said.

Bumpers launched his general election campaign Sunday and he realizes that his major opponent, Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, has cut into his strength by asserting that Bumpers is refusing to discuss the issues.

This is not true, Bumpers said. He maintains he went into the campaign last June 16th discussing issues and he has never stopped.

"But when you discuss the same issues and the same problems as I have done in every speech, it is no longer newsworthy," he said.

In other words, Bumpers said, he is a victim of a communications gap, a gap which goes to the heart of the definition of news as that which is new. Reporters covering Bumpers have heard all his positions stated many times. So they omit reference to them in their latest stories. This leaves the impression that he is not talking about the issues, he said.

Bumpers said he had the same problem during the primaries and that is why television was so critical to his success.

"When the people saw me on television, they liked the fact that I was talking positively," he said. Those who think he is not talking about the issues now will learn differently when he goes back on television, he added.

Rockefeller charges that Bumpers has not been specific. Bumpers bounced the charge right back. "Look at his speeches and utterances and tell me what he's been specific on," Bumpers said.

Bumpers also contends that Rockefeller has embarked on a campaign of personal attack.

"Most of his speech (to the Republican convention) was an attack on me and, in effect, an attack on the 258,000 people who voted for me in the runoff primary," Bumpers said. "That may be politically wise. That's for him to decide."

Bumpers contends that Rockefeller runs essentially negative campaigns. "He ran negative campaigns in 1966 and 1968, and he was geared for a negative campaign in this race," Bumpers said. "Then he was fooled by who his opponent turned out to be."

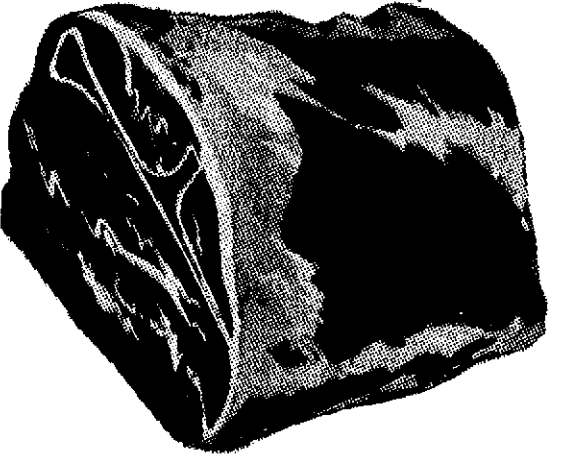

Bumpers, a political unknown before he filed for governor, upset former Gov. Orval E. Faubus and a coterie of better known candidates to win the nomination. He believes Rockefeller hoped and expected to run against Faubus this fall.

Faubus' use of personal attack in the runoff primary was a key factor in his defeat, Bumpers said, adding, "The people showed in that election that they're tired of that type of political tactic."

The term "agelast" means a person who never lasts. It stems from a Greek word meaning "not laughing."
